As we, the Class of 1961, depart from Cambridge High and Latin School, we realize the great debt we owe to the members of the faculty and to our parents. Our four years at Cambridge High have been made profitable and pleasurable by them. We are indebted for their excellent instruction and guidance. Therefore, in appreciation of all our parents and teachers have done for us, we have chosen the theme "Home and School" for the first issue of THE CANTAB.

"THE LADY'S NOT FOR BURNING"

The Senior Class play given on October 28, 1960 was not only a complete success, but also a great deal of fun for the people involved. Directed by Mr. Robert Guest, the group did a wonderful job in a very difficult production, "The Lady's Not For Burning" by Christopher Fry. The cast was composed of eight people, all of whom showed considerable talent and perseverance for such a hard task; Diane Callum as Jenette, Stephen Waring as Thomas, Ann Sieman as Alison, Clifford Wooldridge as the judge, Jacqueline Winsor as Margaret, Edmund Chojnowski as Humprey, Lawrence Corbett as Nicholas, and Natale Manfredi as the clerk. Mr. Guest is certainly to be congratulated on finding such a talented group of seniors and on producing a very enjoyable piece of work.

WELL DONE

A weary dirge the woodwind plays,
An elegy to dying days;
And e'er return the mournful strains
As o'er heavy hearts its echo wanes.

But soon with joyous shout unbound,
The golden voice of trumpets sounds
To challenge us to fare the strife
And meet the adverse powers of life

Now one by one we take our place
But pause to pray for heavenly grace,
That we engaging in the fight
May carry high the torch of light.

And when the battle at last is o'er,
When peace shall reign and death's no more,
The victory won that glorious day,
At the feet of God our spoils we'll lay.
